

Highlights from this issue

Thorax: first published as 10.1136/thorax-2022-219343 on 25 July 2022. Downloaded from <http://thorax.bmj.com/> on September 27, 2022 by guest. Protected by copyright.

doi:10.1136/thorax-2022-219343

The Triumvirate

WE HAVE GOT IT COVERED...

As Professors Hart, Jenkins and Smyth make way for Professors Griffiths, O'Kane and Quint, we have reflected on the front covers that demonstrated our ambition of embedding originality, rigour and excellence across paediatric and adult research in respiratory, sleep and critical care medicine. If only we could have considered this maxim more deeply when we were writing Airwaves each month. We hope you enjoyed reading Airwaves significantly more than we enjoyed writing it.

This month's Airwaves moves from first to last, art to science, frivolity to the important, collaboration to interdependence and some unusual and surprising. The Triumvirate had become addicted to the continuous improvement of Thorax and now it's time for them to rest and get into rehab.

FIRST

ART TO SCIENCE

FROM FRIVOLITY TO THE IMPORTANT

COLLABORATION TO INTERDEPENDENCE

THE UNUSUAL AND SURPRISING

...AND FROM FIRST TO LAST

© Author(s) (or their employer(s)) 2022. No commercial re-use. See rights and permissions. Published by BMJ.