

Figure S1 Comparison of measured and predicted 6MWD by the overall regression model (N = 181), differentiated by sex. The difference between the directions of the slopes for male versus female was statistically significant ($p < 0.001$).

